New Specialist for Campbellford Memorial Hospital Clinic

NEWS:

Campbellford Memorial Hospital (CMH) is pleased to announce the recruitment of dermatologist Dr. Renita Ahluwalia to its consulting specialist staff. Currently based at Women's College Hospital in Toronto, Dr. Ahluwalia is scheduled to work at CMH on a monthly basis, with her first clinic scheduled for Friday April 11.

The hospital's latest addition means better access to specialized care.

Appointments for consultations will be received by the Booking Office at CMH through referrals from a family physician.

QUOTES:

"Dr. Barbero has told me so much about how wonderful the people of Campbellford are. I know how difficult it is to attract specialists to the area and I am looking forward to working with you all. I would also like to thank the Trent Hills Physician Recruitment Committee for assisting me in coming on board."

"Dr. Ahluwalia is a wonderful addition to the range of specialists we now have working at CMH. She is another example of our continued success in the area of physician recruitment, bringing quality care closer to home for the community we serve." Brad Hilker, President and CEO, Campbellford Memorial Hospital

“I am excited to welcome Dr. Ahluwalia to CMH. It has been many years since we have had dermatology services available to us right at home. She brings the latest knowledge with her, as well as access to a network of information through her work at Women’s College.” Susan Robinson, Manager, Emergency and Outpatient Clinics

QUICK FACTS:

Dr Ahluwalia is a Canadian and American board certified dermatologist. She practices in both academic and private practice and is appointed at Women’s College Hospital. She completed her undergraduate studies in her hometown of Winnipeg, earning both a B.A. and B.Sc. from the University of Manitoba in four years. She then studied medicine at the University of Toronto, where she went on to complete residency training in dermatology, serving as Chief Resident during her final year. She has presented at national and international meetings and has been the recipient of numerous awards, including the Canadian Dermatology Associations Young Investigator Honour. As a former national public speaking champion, Dr. Ahluwalia uses her passion to be a health advocate for dermatological issues including skin cancer awareness and prevention. Dr Ahluwalia is an active member of the Toronto Dermatological Society, Canadian Dermatology Association, American Academy of Dermatology and American Society for Dermatologic Surgery.
